When it Comes to Coding, Accuracy Matters

Are you experiencing any of these challenges?

Too many denials, rejections, and underpayments	DNFB greater than 5 days	Poor cash flow and/or collections
Increasing days in Accounts Receivable	Multiple hard-to-code specialties	High coding staff turnover

Did you know?

Medical coding errors are one of the top reasons claims are denied. And that's a problem. Denials are expensive to rework, and they can lead to delays in reimbursement – or no payment at all.
