By streamlining processes and integrating the rules of all stakeholders, Orders and Results lets you process and bill orders immediately upon receipt

Improve Efficiency

Clinical Exchange Orders and Results integrates the results of laboratory or ancillary service providers into your ordering process. This streamlines the workflow and alleviates the need for paper-based manual work. By removing these obstacles, orders are immediately ready to process and bill upon receipt.

Additionally, getting the order right the first time eliminates phone calls to your office to gather clinical or financial information that is often overlooked or missed in paper-based processes.

With the Clinical Network, you can electronically place orders and deliver results within the existing system and workflow you're accustomed to. As a result, you can increase the efficiency of your office staff and more fully leverage the investment you've made in your existing patient-centric records.
